A WISE CONCLUSION.

WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER

We must come down to earth for companionship It's lonely up in the sky, With no one to sooth and comfort you Or care if you laugh or cry.

'Tis very nice in theory, of course, To say you've a soul above Such mundane considerations And you do not care for love.

But, when all is said and done, I think That two are better than one. And life is so short after all, you know And our race is so quickly run.

So give me a kiss just to make me glad And thank my lucky stars
That I am on earth and the light in your eyes Is nearer than dear old Mars

EARLE REMINOTON.

OUR CARROTS.

WRITTEN FOR THE NEW YORK CLIPPER BY NEVARO.

They call her Carrots, because "her hair is like the maple leaves in Autumn." It is the pet name we have given her. By we I mean the members of the Clyde Dramatic Co. The name seems to suit her wonderfully. She is a leading soubrette, and her favorite role is Carrots; so, because of her spirited portrayal of the part, and because "her hair is like the maple leaf in Autumn," we call her Carrots. We all love her, even to the property man who, at a word from her, will hunt the most impossible "props" with never a grumble. I often wonder why it is every one loves her. She makes no effort to win love, only she is always so bright and laughing, never a cross or cranky word, always the life of the company, merry hearted little Car When she is at her merriest, I sometime. fancy I see a weary, hunted look in her big blue eyes—she has such beautiful eyes; laughing blue eyes I call them. Many a man has fallen victim to those blue eyes, and many more will follow.

Only one fault can be found with our Carrots She is a heartless coquette. She will trample honest hearts under her dainty feet like scattered rose leaves, and yet she does not seek their love. It is given unasked, and left to lie untaken in the dust. can understand it all, and yet I sometimes fancy her's was not always a dead heart. I have been thinking something of this as we sit in the hotel parlor this Sunday evening. It is our custom to gather every Sunday night in the parlor (for we are a very happy family), and amuse ourselves. Bo hemian fashion, with music and chatter. Our leading man is seated at the plane, while Carrots is in the centre of a laughing group, as usual.

If there is one thing our leading man does pride himself on, it is his beautiful tenor voice, and now he suddenly breaks into the passionate old love song, "Golden Days." The room is stilled, as if by magic; only the rich tones float out through the still night air, and the moonlight floods the room with a silver stream. Oh, the pathos of the voice:

Ah, but the days brought changes after Ah, but the days brought changes after:
Clouds in the happy skies,
Care on the lips that curved with laughter,
Tears in the radiant eyes;
Parted asunder now with grieving,
Wearliy each one prays,
Ah, for the days beyond retrieving!
Ah, for the golden days!

I happen to glance at Carrots. Is it my fancy, or does her face look strangely white and drawn? Per haps it is the reflection of the moonlight; but, even as I look, she quietly slips through the window and moves to the farther end of the moonlit balcony. Some strange impulse makes me follow her, and, as I slip my arm around her, I am startled at the cold. white face she turns toward me, and the burning glance of her blue eyes makes me shudder.

"Carrots," I say, gently, "what is it?"

Tinnie, you have been a good and true friend to me, and tonight the pain is more than I can bear. I must tell some one. Let us sit down here in the moonlight, and I will try to tell you. Oh, Tinnie t was the song that did it! How it brings back the old agony, for it was his favorite song, and often and often, in the old, happy days, have I sung that song to him. Tinnie, you have heard them call me a coquette; you have heard of how I have broken But, oh, my little friend! you do not know what is in my heart !

was three years ago that we first met-my Victor and I-and from the first we loved each All our love scenes on the stage were real. How madly, jealously he loved me! And I-well, he was my first and only love.

Here her voice breaks, and 1 gently smoothe the bowed head. Presently she again speaks:

Finally, bad business came to our party, and we disbanded. We (Victor and I) were forced to take separate engagements; it was that or starve. Oh, Tinnie, on the day we separated I thought I should die! I was all alone in the world. Victor was all I had to love me. Tonight his white face rises up before me, and I can hear his dear voice as he held his arms, for the last time, and said: 'Good bye, little sweetheart, and remember my last words as true as the stars in Heaven!" In the company I joined was a young fellow who was very kind to me. At last he loved me, and I still lonely and keep him from loving me. I was miserable, and anted to forget, so I flirted with him, never dreaming how it would all end. all the time I never forgot Victor for one instant, for my heart was entirely his. Only the old passion for flirting would not let me be true to myself. I don't word he turned and caught me in his arms. Then know how it happened, but Victor heard of it. He was gone, and I had had my revenge. They say was mad with jealousy, but he wrote me such a revenge is sweet, but, oh, Tinnie, it is false. bitter, taunting letter! He told me he had done with me; that he, too, could play at hearts, and that his love for me was dead.

A month afterward I read in THE CLIPPER of his marriage. Tinnie, on that day I think I went mad for I loved him better than life. As I knelt by my bed that night I called on God to witness that would make him feel a thousand fold the agony was suffering. I made a solemn vow that I would break every man's heart that came within my power. Perhaps you have heard of how I have succeeded? I took the old motto to my heart: 'Slay, utterly false, it is worse than death! Not an hour after he had left me he shot himself through the heart. If remorse ever came to a woman it came to me when I heard the clods fall-ing on his coffin, and knew that I had put them there. He is buried in that little country cemetery far away among strangers, with only a white cross to mark the spot where he lies. Every Summer visit his grave, and take as an offering a bunch of purple heartsease, for is not his heart at rest? It is so calm, so quiet there that i can rest there, far from the weary world. The woman who and spare not,' and it served me well. When I was I was his wife left the stage and became a nun. Her

GEORGE MILBANK.

George Milbank, whose portrait graces this page of THE CLIPPER, is one of the theatrical managers of America who have steadily worked their way from the lowest round of the ladder to a very en position, and whose ambition will be satisfied until they have reached the top. When a mere lad, George Milioank began the battle of life, and he has fought his way heroically, unassisted, and has, at an early age, by his indomi table pluck, energy and sound business sterling integrity, won the confidence of the amuse ment public in more than one large city in the United States. He is a Boston, Mass., boy, having cial results. His work attracted the attention of M. B. Leavitt, who gave Mr. Milbank his first good opportunity to display his ability. Mr. Leavitt's estimate of him was correct, as his work proved. For four years he remained with Mr. Leavitt, conducting with ability all the Leavitt enterprises. and occupying an office in New York City, where Mr. Leavitt made his headquarters. Mr. Milbank left Mr. Leavitt to assume the general management of Austin & Stone's Museum, one of the first and most successful of the cheaper places of amusement in the Hub. His managemement of that house med with signal success, and while there he conceived the idea of giving a series of popular Sunday night concerts in Music Hail. The prices were put down as low as ten cents for admission, and many of the stars in the dramatic and musical firmament have appeared at these entertainments. The experiment of giving a really first class show on Sunday evenings at low prices was such a success that Manager Austin, who backed the enterprise made a small fortune out of it, and Mr. Millbank. who had an interest outside of his salary, added nuch to his growing bank account. When Mr. Austin sold his interest in Austin & Stone's Museum to Stone & Shaw, Mr. Milbank remained with the latter firm. Besides managing the Boston house, he has also had control of the business interests of the Westminster Musee, Providence, R. I. Active and energetic, Mr. Milbank has for the past two years been associated in traveling enterprises with Rufus Somerby, the man who, nearly twenty-five years ago, gave the lad his first work in the show business. The Japanese Village and Eden Musee, road shows which have made money have been conducted by Millbank & Somerby. A short time ago, Mr. Milbank secured the Standard Museum, Brooklyn, N. Y., and, under the name of the Bijou, it will be made one of the most attractive places of amusement in the City of Churches. Jacob Lewis, a wealthy diamond dealer of Boston, is associated with Mr. Milbank in this enterprise, and no expense will be spared to make the new house popular and deserving of support. During the Summer the old house will be completely recon structed, and, when the workmen have left it, it will e one of the most comfortably appointed and prettiest places of amusement in the country.. It is expected that the Brooklyn Bijou will be ready for occupancy and open about Aug. 17. Mr. Milbank will pursue in the new house the generous policy with the public which has been so profitable to him and so productive of excellent results in Boston, Provi-dence and elsewhere. He is a tall, handsome man of fine address, wastes but few words in doing business, is extremely popular with the newspaper men in Boston and other cities, and, as he does not believe that misrepresentation is a part of a man-ager's duty, the public has learned to read his clearly written announcements with pleasure, and to accept them at their face value.

Eng., to a fancier of dogs, is the Dog's Home There are always from four hundred to five hun dred dogs in the home. Five days is the legal term of detention for lost dogs. Many are, how-ever, kept for weeks, or even months. Dogs with collars get a longer reprieve than others. Any dog of good breed is spared longer than a mongrei. Of course, among so large a gathering there must be many worthless specimens; but there are many dogs of good breeding. About 13,000 are taken to the home yearly, of which 25 per cent. are claimed or sold. Last year about 1,500 were restored to their right owners, and about the same number sold, so there were about 3,000 "placed." The police see an animal loafing about semetimes for several days together and then pick him up and bring him in to the home. Some days sixty or eighty dogs reach Battersea in a day, sometimes far less; and often a dozen might be claimed, or perhaps only four. Big, powerful dogs are kept on separate chains, but they are not quar relsome as a rule, and rarely bite the keepers Now and then a man will get badly bitten, but as a rule there is not much danger. The kennels are all scrupulously clean, and the dogs' benches well littered with straw and deodorized thoroughly. They get as much to eat, in the way of Spratt's bis cults, as they can easily manage, and, poor brutes thoroughly appreciate the good feeding. Bitches with pups are kept in a separate building; they are often let out as fostermothers and their offspring destroyed. Fostermothers, by the bye, don't seem perfect success, for they don't lick their fosterpups of tend them as well as their own mothers. To wind up a visit should be paid to the Lethal Chamber, where a merciful end is put to the surplus stock of dogs. These are collected in a cage, covered with wire netting, and introduced in an air tight and gas tight chamber invented by Dr. Richardson. The chamber is closed at all parts except the front and the cage can be slid in with great rapidity. Tonarcotic vapor is produced by passing carbonioxide over an anæsthetic mixture, composed of chloroform and bisulphide of carbon. The moment the cage is introduced to the chamber, an ire shield falls over the entrance, and hermetically closes it. The chamber is previously charged with vapor, and the full strength being immediately hereafter turned on, death ensues at once by this powerful anæsthetic. In two minutes all is over; and to verify the fact a stethoscope, com municating with the outside of the cage, gives warning at once if more gas is needed.

tempted to pity I remembered my own ruined life, and the thought gave me strength. Only a few months afterward I succeeded in getting an engage ment in the company with him and his wife. His wife! The woman who was in my place; but she should not long enjoy it. I knew that my time had come. I looked in his face, and I knew that he loved me as madly as before, and then, when we played the old love scenes together, how I delighted in her jealousy of me! I knew she had heard the story of his love for me, and I gloried in heragony for did I not suffer? Think, if you can, what it wa for me to see her in the place that should have been mine; and yet she was not to blame, but he, too should suffer! I knew that he loved me with hi whole heart; that he madly regretted what he had done, and that, at a word from me, he would leave the woman he had wedded.

Then such revenge as only a woman knows how to take I took. Suddenly I grew cold to him, and only had eyes and ears for another in the company That it was, I think, which drove him to despera tion. One night he came to me and begged me on his knees to let all others go and love him as of old. He promised to do anything I should ask, to give up the world for me if I should desire it; he begged or his knees for the love he had thrown away. Then, and only then, was my revenge complete. I told him to go back to the woman he had preferred to me, that my love for him was dead, and that h would oblige me by ending our little scene. I sug gested that his loving wife was awaiting him, an

He attended the Boston public schools until he was about eleven years of age, and then his parents moved to Malden ous Massachusetts city. A year later, Rufus merby (now a veteran manager, well known and highly appreciated, especially on the Eastern circult), visited Malden with one of his popular enter tainments, and young Milbank, a lad of twelve, ap plied to him for the position of programmer. Mr omerby was taken at once by the frank, handface of the boy, and gave him employment He faithfully performed his duty, and cepted cheerfully the small compensation v was given to him. Boston -- Now that the Park Theatre has closed ts doors which event occurred June 29 and the fact that the Summer grand opera venture of Gustave Hinrichs came to a most abrupt termina-tion at the Foston Theatre after singing "Faust" Gasave Hurrichs came to a most abrupt termination at the Foston Theatre after singing "Faust" June 24 (evening, there is but one of our legitimate theatres left to meet the demands of midsummer hunters for theatrical diversion and excitement, and that is the Foston Museum with "Little Lord Fauntieroy." This delightful piece is peculiarly calculated to please Sammer parrons of the show house, and as far as I am able to judge, it seems to be pursuing a run of substantial profitableness. I do not intend to convey the impression that the andences at Manager Field's establishment, during detectably forrid and murgy nights are by any means of an undistally weighty character; they are most certainly not still the charming play of Mrs. Burnett attracts andences which all things considered, were conspicuously extensive in comparison with the rest of the Hub theatres while the inter-kept their doors open. St. John'—At the Lansdowne Theatre, week of July 1, "The Big Bonanza" and "The Lyons Mait," Week of June 24, "Our Regiment" and 'Two Orphans' did splendid business. Mr. McDowell has surrounded himself with a fine all 'round company, the members of which have made themselves popular, Percy Haswell has become a strong favorite here and her work shows that she has a grand future before her. She goes out next season in "Hands Across the Sea." At Mcchanics' Institute, July 1, 2, "Peck's Bad Boy." June 24, 25, 26, 27, the Hyers Sisters did a poor business.

Memphis.-Favorable weather considerably increased the attendance at Jackson Mound Park week of June 23. "Patience" is to be put on this week. Fatmah Diard, lately with the Wilbur Opera Co., has been engaged by the Park management, Co. has been engaged by the Park management, and arrived June 27. She succeeds as prima donin May Duryea, who will probably return to New York July 7. The Memphis Theatre will have a lot of new scenery for the Fall opening. Frank Deshon informs me he will star jointly with Amy Ames the coming season in H. Gratton Donnelly's play, "Manna." They are to start out about the middle of September.

Chattanooga.—The People's Theaire is the only place of amusement now open in the city. New people July 1. Bowers and Clayton, Borker Bros., Sam Wayfield, Naud Deles and Eva Weinfield.

A STANTED ENVIRONE, plainly addressed, must be inclosed for each and every letter, and the line of business followed by the party addressed should be given, in order to prevent mistakes.

NOTE—Professionals dothers should bear in mind that all letters, etc., in transit between the United States and Canadas must be prepaid, otherwise they are not forwarded.

Manager John Letcher was the recipient of a benefit 21.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago .- Theatricals continue to flourish, in Chieago.—Theatricals continue to flourish, in spite of other attractions. Gilmore's Band and concert troupe gave three evening and two mailinee concerts at the Exposition building last week to immense houses. Forepaugh's Circus comes July 1, but whatever the theatres miss on his account will be made up financially by two performances on the Fourth of July. The most noteworthy event of the week was the Chicago Press Club annual matinee, at the Columbia, afternoon of June 20. The programme lasted from 1.30 o'clock until nearly 6, and there was nearly 8,1200 in the house at popular prices. The second act of 'The Spider's Web' was presented first. C. W. Couldock, appropriately costumed, recited "The Vagabond," and F. F. Mackay "The Life Boat;" E. H. Sothern presented the first act of "Lord Chumley," and the pupils of the Chicago Conservatory did John Stapleton's original grotesque comedy, "Mysterious Messages." But the crowning feature was a sene from 'The Hunchback,' in which Master Wallie Eddinger took the part of Modus and little Ray Maskell that of Helen. The little tots fairly convulsed the andlense by their clever version of the amusing coquetry of the scene represented. Another juvenite star, Master Walter Lewis, aged five years, captured the house by his droll and remarkable performance of the character of Ncirtier in a scene from 'Monte Cristo.'' He was supported by Horace Lewis and Alfia Kenniston. Master Tommy Russell recited "Somebody's Mother" in a captivating imanner. Edith 'Murilla and Ignacio Martinetti, Edward Foy, Lilly Post, John D. Gilbert and W. W. Walton, the English comique, each added a few interesting moments to the grand aggregate. An agreeable missical Interlude was provided by the J. O. S. Guitar and Banjo Club, under the direction of W. S. Saxter. Still another delightful feature was the character dance. "La Tentation." by Edith Fassette and Grace Hayward.... Work will be commenced this week on the new theatre at Englewood. It will be a handsome brick and stone building, elegantly decor spite of other attractions. Gilmore's Band and conert troupe gave three evening and two matinee

HOOLEY'S.—For his second and last week, E. H. Sothern presents "Lord Chumley," "The Highest Bidder" drew fully as well as it did at the beginning of the season, which has lasted for forty-six weeks. "Lord Chumley" has proved the more profitable of the two pieces in his repertory. Newton Beers' "Enoch Arden" opens a Summer engagement July 7, to last for four weeks.

Chicago Opera Hotes.—Bluebeard Jr., or Fatima and the Fairy," enters upon its fourth week July 1, and 7 the second edition of the piece is to be presented. For it a number of new features, including music by John Braham, and a grotesque quadrille by Messrs. Martinetti, Martina Collier and Powell, are in preparation. After its run here the piece will go to Miwaukee and thence to Philadelphia, but from present indications, it is said, will hardly be seen in New York.

MCYICKER'S.—"The Tempest" is drawing excellent housed, and wins great praise for its handsome stagring, strong acting and pretty music. The cast,

COLYMBIA.—"Little Lord Fauntieroy" shows little or no falling off. The aristocratic six year olds of Ashland Boulevard havy learned the play by heart, and gave a matinee in a barn last Saturday afternoon, which netted $7 for the Foundlings' Home, at ten cents admission. Tommy Russell, wallie Eddinger and Ray Maskell continue to divide the dinger and Ray Maskell continue to divide the honors.

Jacons' Academy of Music.—Wilson Day's new metodrama: "Lost and Won," has proved a very acceptable play of its type, and has done a thriving business. "The Night Watch," which has already been seen here at a South Side theatre, opens July 1. People's.—The Reno & Slader Co. has had a profitable season here with "The Parson's Charge," one week, and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" the last. "The Hidden Hand" opens July 1, and closes the season with a week's engagement.

Grand Opera House.—The Spider's Web" closes the season at this house 30. It has enjoyed uniform good business, and ran a week longer than was intended.

H. Sothern have been re-chgaged by Manager Frohman for the road tour next season......John H. Russell left for New York 27. to make engagements for his new Criterion Comedy Company, for which "The City Directory" is to be embellished into a high class farce comedy.... "The Wooden Wedding" is the title chosen for a musical comedy next in order of production by Paul Potter and Manager Hamilin of the Grand Opera House. "Maggs! Landing" will open Havlin's Theatre formerly Baker's early in September... Little Ray Maskell was the recipient during this week of a very fine pony from a gentleman admire.... The Waverly Theatre out on West Madison Street has once again changed hands and is now under the management of C. L. Cole. "Pinafore" is raging there for the week of July 1.... The sale of option tickets for the Theodore Thomas Summer night concerts, which begin July 1 at the Exposition building is the largest ever known in this city.... A concert in which the Bucklin Sisters took part was one of the musical features of the week. They are six in number and have finely modulated voices, ranging from high soprano down through mezzo to a contrail of rich quality..... The Chicago policemen's annual benefit will take place Oct. 20 at the Hawmarket. "Natural Gas." will be the attraction.......Juliet Cone, a Chicago girl, daughter of George W. Cone, of Willoughby, Hill & Co., has signed to play soubrette parts in Vernona Jarbeau's Co. and opens with them in Buffalo next September, under the stage name of Julie Kingsley. She has had some experience on the stage, and her work has attracted the attention of Roland Reed, Col. R. E. J. Miles and other professionals.

E. J. Miles and other professionals.

Rockford.—Augustin Duly's Co. completed the most brillant engagement in the theatrical history of Rockford June 26. Curtain calls were the rule. The audience would not disperse 26 until Mr. Duly bowed his blanks. Coming: the Cleveland Haverly Minstrels Aug. 9... Forepaugh's Circus July 27.

Cincinnati.—The queen City of the West has to depend on the Zoo, Coney Island and the hilltops for cool amusements these Summer days. For the first time in years no opera company lingers in our midst, although a couple of rival juvenile organizations are here preparing for the Fall campaign. Bebe Earlscott, a clever little Kentucky girl, is at the head of one, and Mrs. Donaldson is shaping the other for a revival of "Pinafore." There seems to be an undercurrent of jealousy somewhere, for during the week Miss Earlscott received a lurid warning not to appear with her young vocalists at the Highland House unless she desired to be hissed off the stage. The threat was unheeded, and the company appeared June 25 without suffering the fate that was promised it.

Harris Thratik.—J. Z. Lattle's "World" appeared July 1. Despits the torrid weather Frank Lindon and Edna Earlie did well last week in a repertory. The season may close 6, but that is not certain. Nothing is underlined for 8.

purity of tone. Upon inquiring who was the possessor of that wonderful organ, they were informed that it was the cook. They immediately sent a request for him to come to them. Mr. Collins entered the room, clad in a white cap and apron, and sang before them. They strongly urged the father to send him to London to study music. He was then about eighteen years of age. Shortly thereafter his father acted upon the advice given him, and Mr. Collins, after going through a course of musical study, made his debut at the Haymarket Theatre, London, Eng., as first tenor in English and foreign opera. As Captain McHeath in "The Beggar's Opera" he achieved a wonderful success, and that opera had a very long run. After a few seasons he became tired of the lyric stage, and appeared upon the dramatic, playing eccentric Irish parts. He also acted in many musical dramas. When "Paul Chiford" was first produced at Covent Garden, and had such a long run, John Collins was the original impersonator of the dashing highwayman. He first appeared in America Aug. 17, 1846, as McShane in "The Nervous Man," at the Park Theatre. In October, 1862, he visited Europe, but returned to America, and opened at Nilo's Garden in April, 1863. He reappeared in London Oct. 3, 1864. He went to Australia in 1866.

Al. G. Field's Minstrel Notes..—Mr. Field is in Chicago, and things are quiet around headquarters. Major Billy Kibble has signed to take charge of the drill in the military encampment first part. He will introduce his gun, bayonet and sword manipulations. C. W. White, the basso, will have charge of the singing. Mr. Field had changed the word operatic in the title, and substituted militaire, and has had considerable printing and engraving done with the new title. Managers, in answering ietters, would write their desire to play the operatics, seemingly infering that Mr. Field intended running two companies. In answer to our advertisement, four-fifths of the letters were addressed "Operatic Minstrels." Mr. Field concluded that people did not take to the word militaire, and that hereafter, and for all time to come, the title originally nailed to the masthead—Al. G. Field & Co.'s Operatic Minstrels—should be the one under which we would sail. Oliver Scott, the general agent of Stowe & Lang's Circus, was a visitor the past week.

Dockstader's Theatre. — Dockstader's Minstrels returned to their Broadway theatre July I, with the same people who were with them last week and the week previous at Proctor's Twenty-third Street. Their present stay is announced for three weeks, and the usual changes will take place. At Bernioves Hall, June 28, a benefit was given to August Walter, of the Amberg Co., by the Club Dramatic, a German amateur society. A large andience was present, and the programme id-cluded a number of volunteers. It consisted of three comic plays—Fin Delikater Aufurg," Honored Guests' and the farce. "Heinmann Levi aid der Aim." The last which was written by iter Walter, proved exceedingly amusing, and was well acted by the author and Fraulem Tom Hermann. Among the others who assisted were her Haack, ida Trautmann and Resi Wilks. The Emmorrs of the Beethoven Society sang two songs, and Hermine Erichsen played a zither solo. After the performance Herr Walter was presented with a hand some diamond ring.

Bijou Theatrie—J. T. Maguire had his annual benefit evening of July I; the house being filled with the friends of the popular treasure. It was a great occasion. "A Midnight Bell" was the attraction, T. Q. Seabrooke playing his original part of Deacon Tidd. The house will remain closed only two weeks, inaugurating a supplementary season of a formight 15, with "The White Ele phant."

MANGER JOSEPH H. MACK made another trip to town from the coel of Greenwood Lake early this week. Here he was met by Edwin B. Hay, a popular lawyer of Washington, D. C., who came hither to consult with Mr. Mack and his counsel as to the disputed question of contract between Mr. Mack and Robert Downing. After a long and thoroughly anticable interview between the parties at issue, Mr. Hay, on behalf of Mr. Downing, made to Mr. Mack a proposition, which the latter will take under consideration for a few days. It is said to offer an agreeable adjustment of the affair, and the friends of both gentlemen will probably be glad to know that there is a strong probably of an annicable end of what once promised to be a bitter contest. Meanwhile, it is significant that later in the week Mr. Mack will pay a visit to R. D. McLean, the joint star with Marie Prescott in the Prescott-McLean Co., at Mr. McLean's Wild goose farm. There is sure to be good sport encountered, and Mr. Mack's outfit of guns and dogs has preceded him. Out of the frip, too, may come a new enterprise, in which Mr. Mack in vilgure pronimently. The house was filled, and the play gained a fair degree of favor, though 1 did not quite duplicate the success it is reported to have won in Boston recently. We defer a more detailed review for our next issue. Gertie Homan was a charming Editha, John T. Sullivan an admirable Paul-Benton and Emma V. Sheridan an excellent Alice. Swdney Drew made the conedy bit, and Maurice Barrymore gave an uneven though generally effective performance as the burglar. The plece is on for a run of several weeks, and that he come the success of the season.

lively in this city, considering the time of year. Two experiments have ripened into flattering successes judging by the attendance and the smiles upon the countenances of their promulgators. A upon the countenances of their promulgators. I refer to the Summer season of opera at the Sar, and the orchestral concerts at the Music Hall. The receipts at both places have increased steadily from the beginning and at each bouse may be mightly seen a goodly proportion of Buffalo's four or more hundred. At the Music Hall the attendance music surely grow larger as the heated term approaches, because the entertainment offered is pecularly surfed to the season. — A copy of a letter sent to Manager M. B. Leavitt by Goldby & Ward, owners of the New Windsor Theatre, Chicago, Ill., and dated June 28, is as follows; "We desire to correct the report spread by Mr. Lehnen that he has a leasy of the New Windsor Theatre, Chicago, Ill. Mr. Lehnen has nothing to do with the New Windsor, and attractions seeking to book with him will do well to amply secure themselves, as he will inder no circumstances be permitted to occupy the new theatre when finished. Manager M. B. Leavitt has a five years' lease of the New Windsor, and is the only person who will be recognized as having any rights therein, and we wish it distinctly so understood."

— In "Hans the Boatman" several changes have been made by Charles Arnold since its original production in London, Eng. There is no Dr. Finch now, the character having been changed to Lieut. Finch, U. S. N. The motive for Gladys leaving her husband is now stronger, and the end of the second act, which had an anti climax, now concludes with Hans hearing of his wife's descrition while lighting the fire. An explosion now ends the act. Mr. Arnold writes us from London June 22, as follows: "I wish to thank the gentlemen of the press for the kind way in which they have spoken of 'Ilans the Boatman' and myself, but I must ask them not to allude to J. K. Emmet in their future notices of me. I do not claim rivalry with him. My part is different from anything he has ever done. My dialect is entirely different, and my songs and busiall original with me. I do not initiate him. I admire him and would feel satisfied if I could make half the money he has made, and be proud to think myself half as popular. I play the German Swiss on entirely different lines, and I am sure the critics of America will distinguish the difference in our methods and not take the narrow view that all German diacet actors are imitators of Mr. Emmet."

DEATH OF MISS GLYN .- The announcements we have recently had, with regret, to make respecting the terrible malady—cancer—which had laid her prostrate, must have prepared our readers for the news of the death of the above named once famous English actr-ss, which took place recently in London. Eng. Mrs. E. S. Dallas, better known to the playgoing public as Isabel Glyn, was born at Edinburgh, Scot. May 22, 1823. She was brought up carefully and religiously. Taking part in several amateur performances when she was a girl of eighteen or nineteen first turned her thoughts to the stage as a career. After studying in Paris under M. Mickelot, of the Conservatoire, she returned to London, and in 1846 began seriously to devote herself to dramatic work. After some preliminary practice at Manchester, and a few Jessons in elocution from Charles Kemble, Miss Glyn made her first appearance in London, at the Olympic Theatre. Jan. 26, 1848, as Lady Macbeth, securing a very favorable reception. In the following September she was engaged at Sadler's Wells, appearing as Volumina to the Coriolanus of Mr. Phelps, and after-wards representing Hermione in "A winter's Tale" and Queen Katherine in "Henry VIII." In January, 1849, her impressive acting as Constance in "King John" attracted considerable attention. Her histrionic reputation was well maintained by a series of prointnent characters in Shakespearian plays, but a decided friumph was obtained when "Antony and Cleopatra" was produced, Oct. 22, 1849, Miss Glyn playing Cleopatra to the Antony of Mr. Phelps, which was a special and the Princess' in Medical Properties of Shakespearian pays that the Antony and Cleopatra was produced, Oct. 22, 1849, Miss Glyn playing Cleopatra to the Antony and Cleopatra was obtained when "Antony and Cleopatra" will be additionable and the Princess' macheth, Interest wells, appearing as Lady Macbeth, Bianca in "Fazio," to the Missey and the Princess' in Message of Shakespearian recitals, and in December, 1851, in the following was a great of the service of the pay of the properties of "Shakespearia" at the St. James Hall London where her elocutionary powers were much admired. J. S. MITCHELL, the famous weight handler, white practising with the fifty-six pound weight at the grounds of the Pasiline Athletic Club, a few days ago, severely strained his back and is now scarcely able to move about. This will prevent him giving the intended exhibition at the New Jersey A. C. games on the Fourth of July, and may render it impossible for him to safely practise with the weights for some months to come. That he was in fine form will be believed when it is known that one of his throws the day the accident bappened measured 23ft, Join, the record for the 'hity-six' being but 30ft, lin. Mitchell's inlisfortune will be a source of general regret.

PETER CANNON, of Sterling, the famous Scotch pedestrian, recently won a two miles handicap, from scratch in 9m. 273/8s, the wind being strong and the track poor. As he cannot get on a match over there, it is probable that Cannon will soon take a trip across the Atlantic in search of an opponent.

New Coupling Record.

The North Dakota Firemen's Association held their annual tournament at Fargo June 12-13, 14 and it was in all respects a most gratifying success. The principal feature of the affair was the hose coupling contests, at which T. S. Lippy not only won the championship of the department but low-cred the record for single coupling to 4'ys, defeating George Wilson in the final trial. Him and J. M. Thouson, both belonging to the Yeryas of Fargo also broke the world's record for double coupling, the time being the same as that given above. The conditions were to run fifty feet, break coupling and put on nozzle. The other events were interesting, the result being as follows: Hook and ladder race, 2004s., free for all—Mazeppa, Wahpeton, dirst, in 28s, and 30/s. Hose race 300yds.—Proneer, Grafton, first, in 40'4s. Hand engine contest, to run 220/ds., break coupling, attach hose to engine and pipe to hose, and get water—the Hilisboro ran over alone, getting water in 55s.

CARDS.

PORER, Jamestown.—Yes. It he thinks he can get it, he had better consult a lawyer.

R.E.M.—"A jack pot has been opened, and, after the draw. A, the opener, bets. B says: 'I pass.' Chesitates, and B then claims he has still a right to call and does so is he correct!"..... No. B was wroin in his claim, as well as in his play. Having once passed, he had no more say in that game. The call lies between A and C, and, if the latter also dropped out. A is entitled to the stakes, no matter what B may do or say.

Ite's. C.—I had the lawyer place in the discard pile, we compelling him to expose it or in any way call attention to it by Jaying it to one side, speaking of the "break," etc., as miany players erroneously suppose. To prove his carton, if any dispute should afterwards arise, the discard pile, correctly made, would tell its own story. 2 No. Not if the enquirer has made a bet, for instance.

A. C., Murry.—The knave.

H. F. T. Worcester.—It depends upon a previous agreement. In cutting for money the ace is low. Drinks, according to your statement, belong to the same category.

B. J. S. S. Williamsport.—No. By the way, at euchre, properly played, only one man can go alone at a certain time and gain anything by it. The player, in point, therefore, can count no more than if he had taken his partner with him, making enough to score one point, unless otherwise expressly agreed.

H. B. Karsas City.—It not called, be has to show his entire hand.

L. S. And A. S., Milwaukee.—L. S. was right, according to your statement. He wins.

Jasky, Jersey thy A. B. S. Fight in his claim. The drawn card possessed him the winner.

L. C. S., Sparta.—A wins the main pot. Ot course it is undersoos that he held on to his two lacks and called why he should not. See reply to "L.8. and A.8.," Milwaukee.

I. O. S. Sparta —A wins the main pot. Of course it is undersood that he held on to his two tacks and called for a sight for his stakes on them.

SINA. Plaua.—Let the house, which always pays and takes upon its own responsibility, determine. Our decision or opinion would in no way probably affect their methods. The house is generally recognized to be right. Even if we were inclined to act as arbiter, however, it is possible that you would not abide by our ruling, other so called authorities being called in, as your blunder in the inscription of your letter bead shows. It looks as if you were hunting around for somebody's say so that would suit your own ideas.

R S. Lowell — I. The first championship game between professional teams was played May 4, 1871, at Fort Wayne, Ind., between the Kekionga Club of that city and the Forest City Club of Cleveland, the former winning by a score of 2 to 0. 2 The first professional association was organized March 17, 1871, and the following clubs contended in its first Change, Forest City of Cleveland, Philadelly of Change, Forest City of Cleveland, Change, Cross City of Cleveland, or Fort Wayne, Mutual of New York City, and Olympic of Washington. The Kekionga team disbaoded in August of that year.

of that year.

G. B. E., Omaha.—Send brief items, including results of championship games.

J. R. M., Mercer.—They lose who bet that the Bostons would beat the Fittsburgs two to one. Our rule in such a case is that the winning club must make at least two runs, and that I to 0 does not win a two-to-one bet.

W. S. A., Springsdel.—The base runner is not out. Rule 34 governs that point, as it says that the ball shall not be considered in play until it is bald by the pitcher "standing in his position." There has never been any rule declaring a base runner out on the trick you mention.

N. O. S., Buffalo.—I. Meesra, Soden, Conant and Billings are the owners of the ball grounds occupied by the Boston Club, and they alone can give an accurate answer concerning the seating capacity thereof. 2. Address The Boston Herald or Globe for an answer to your other questions.

The fact that the score was a tie does not make a draw of the bet. If A and B agree to draw the bet, bet, bet, and b agree to draw the bet, however, A should receive back his $10 and B his $10. The rules regarding betting on horse racing have nothing to do with baseball.

C. P. 8. Philadelphia—The bet is a draw.

BREGITIES—Champion Reed is now the proper thing. Meastra Herter and Reed will publish the Reed-Barker match games, with notes, etc. We would advise all interested in the game to purchase a copy, as it will contain original play of a very high order; and then just think of the valuable annotations by those two noted experts. We say that James Smith, champion of England, writes to Mr. Plenning, under date of May S. and says: "Regarding the championship dispute between you and Mr. Kelly, I think you are quite right." This coincides with the view we expressed a short time ago... There is every evidence that another great match will soon occur, this time between Champion Reed and Mr. Freeman, of Providence, R. I. We know that Reed is willing, so it only remains for Preeman's backers to put up the money.... The friendly match between Mr. McCulloch, of Glasgow, and Wm. Reed, the celebrated Ayreshire player, ended in a victory for the latter gentleman, by the following score: Reid, I; McCulloch, 0; drawn, 4.

Chess in Brooklyn.—In addition to the reported hand-icap in Brooklyn C. So the two fill up the full year, and keep up a condition of "perpetual checking," so to speak. The gratifying success of this original scheme will doubtless bring out some ambitious imitators.

Pennsylvania Defents Yale.

The match race between the Freshmen eight oared crews of Yale College and the University of oared crews of Yale College and the University of Pennsylvania came off over the two mile straightaway course on the Thames River, at New London, Ct., on Tuesday afternoon, June 25, and, as had been anticipated, the contest resulted in the defeat of the lads from the Elm City. Had it not been for the fact, which was learned a few days previously, that several of the members of the Pennsylvania crew, instead of being bona fide Freshmen, had completed college courses elsewhere, and are now in the professional schools of their university, while the Yalencians are all youthful collegians, the latter would probably have been the favorities in the betting on the result; but, as it was, it was not deemed probable that they would be able to compete successfully with their more experienced and older antagonists. The men of Yale feel rather badly over what they consider the purful dealing of the Pennsylvanians, and declare that hereafter both the 'Varsity and Freshmen crews will refuse to meet the latter. There were not so many people present on Tuesday as were there on the occasion of the race between the 'Varsity crews of the same colleges, less interest being manifested in the result: The weather was pleasant and the water in better condition than before. The personel of the rival crews was as follows: Pennsylvania—H. B. Luhn (bow), W. E. Naupon, W. G. Davenport, R. B. Sullivan, D. D. Fair, G. R. Gray, A. L. Harris, H. A. Jackson (stroke), J. K. THE PAVONIA YACHT CLUB of Jersey City held their twentuch annual regatta on June 24, and were favored by clear weather, plenty of wind and a suitable tide. The course sailed over by the larger craft was from the starting point, between Ellis and Liberty Islands, to and around buoy 8½, on the southwest spit, and return, while the smaller boats sailed to and around Fort Lafayette and return, the respective distances being thirty and eighteen nautical miles. Owing to the fact that the latter course was a bit too long for the small boats, some of them were not timed. The race was interesting, the shifting wind giving the yachts a free wind, except the stretch from the Narrows to the outer mark for the larger racers, when it was a beat. Harvard Again Defeated. Although regarded as the chief event of the college boat racing week on the Thames River, New London, Ct., the annual match race between the London, Ct., the annual match race between the 'varsity crews of those long time rivals, Harvard and Yale, which took place on Friday afternoon. June 28, turned out to be a very tame contest when compared with previous competitions between other oarsmen on the same historic stream. For a mile it was worth looking at, but afterwards the race resolved itself into an uninteresting procession, with the blue in front, and they never gave the lads who sported the well known crimson colors a chance to get to the fore thereafter. It had been intended to have the event decided before noon, but the fresh southeasterly breeze meeting the ebbing tide made the event decided before noon, but the fresh southeasterly breeze meeting the ebbing tide made the event decided before noon, but the fresh southeasterly breeze meeting the ebbing tide made the event decided before noon, but the fresh southeasterly breeze meeting the ebbing tide made the event decided before hanks of the stream, the bridge and the excursion and other boats that swarmed on the river. At the time set for the stars in the evening, 6.45 o'clock, the which had gone down, the water was smooth, and both wind and tide were with the oarsmen, who were seated in their respective boats as follow: Harvard—Gardner Perry, 89, 163tb. bow; T. N. Perkins, 91, 164; E. C. Storrow, 89, 147; J. S. Cranston, 92, 164; J. R. Finlay, 91, 188; B. T. Tilton, 90, 157; J. P. Hutchinson, 90, 157; R. F. Herrick, 90, 156, stroke; J. Harvard Too Much for Columbia.

The third of the series of races between college crews on the River Thames, at New London, Ct., came off late in the afternoon of Thursday, June 27, the con-tending oarsmen being the freshmen of Harvard and off late in the atternoon of Thursday, June 27, the contending oarsmen being the freshmen of Harvard and Columbia, and the distance two miles, straightaway. The weather was clear and pleasant, but the breeze which blew so stiffly from the southwest upstream exercised a bad effect on the water, which was rough when the start was made, about an hour after the announced time. It made the work of the oarsmen harder, for the reason that the race was rowed against the tide, the crews having previously agreed to row down stream. The composition of the opposing oarsmen was as follows: Harvard—A. Rantout (bow), G.C. Dewey, J. C. Powers, G. F. Stedman, J. F. Jones, F. N. Waters, J. H. Kidder, J. H. Goddard (stroke). Columbia—J. A. Barnard (bow), D. Bandler, C. W. Trippe, J. R. Langthorne, T. L. Christie, A. C. Hazen Jr., E. P. Smith, H. H. Wetherspoon (stroke), B. H. Dutcher (coxwain). It was a quarter to six o'clock when the signal that set the oars in earnest motion was given, and an even send off was had, but soon the favorites, the lads from Cambridge, commenced to draw to the front. At the quarter mile mark they were almost a length in the van, which was increased to a good streak of open water when the half mile was passed. They had both started at thirty-six strokes to the minute, but now the leaders were rowing three less, while the Columbias had gone one lower in the scale. The race thereafter was simply a procession, the Harvards adding to their advantage at will, and ultimately winning by about two lengths, in 12m. 21s., Columbia's time being 12m. 28s.

The America Cup.

The following dispatch, received June 28 by the secretary of the New York Yacht Club, confirms previous reports and may be regarded as setprevious reports and may be regarded as settling adversely the question as to whether or not we are to have a contest for the America Cup this year: "Committee regret cannot confirm challenge. Letter follows. Grant, Secretary Royal Yacht Squadron." Taking into consideration the length of time that the committee have had the communication of the N. Y. Y. C. in relation to the challenge under advisement, it would appear that instead of the new deed of gift being the obstacle in the way of an amicable adjustment of differences, the indifferent showing made by the new cutter Valkyrie is the real. cable adjustment of differences, the indifferent showing made by the new cutter Valkyrie is the real-cause for the unsportsmanlike action taken by the R. Y. S. No official action will be taken by the N. Y. Y. C. till after the arrival of the communication referred to in the cablegram. It is to be hoped that Earl Dunraven will lose no time in bringing his vessel to our waters, where he may rest assured of meeting with a warm welcome, and being afforded every desired opportunity of testing her sailing qualities in opposition to the smart seventy footers belonging to American yachtsmen. The interest taken in the match races between the Valkyrie and our crack boats would be secondary only to races for the champion trophy.

VALKYRIE WINS.—At the regatta of the Royal Largs Yacht Club, at Largs, Scotland, June 28, the Valkyrie made the first round of the course in 1h. 51m. 3s.; the Irex in 1h. 54m. 18s.; the Yarana in 1h. 54m. 42s., and the Marjorie in 1h. 56m. 50s. The Valkyrie won, in 5h. 28m. 17s.; Irex. 5h. 30m. 4s.; Marjorie. 5h. 34m. 41s.; Yarana. 5h. 41m. 35s. The Yarana was second by time allowance. On Saturday, 29, the Valkyrie gained another victory, she meeting the Irex. Yarana and Marjorie in the Rothesay regatta. The Irex was the first to cross the line. and in the reach to Mount Stuart the Valkyrie was dropped by all three competitors. In the run across to Largs, with spinnakers set, however, the new cutter overhauled the others one after another and secured a good lead, with the Yarana next, the latter having some time previously passed the Irex. A steady west wind prevailed.

The Yonkers Gorinthian Yacht Club sailed their annual regatta on June 29, on the Hudson River, but the wind was so very light that the hopes of the participants were dashed and the race was not much of a spectacle. Eighteen boats started, the distance sailed was eleven miles. and the winners in the different classes were class C, cabin sloops—F. A. Rigby's Vixen. Cornell Wins the Triangular Race.

Several thousand persons, a large proportion of whom were college undergraduates, who had ar-rived in town mainly for the purpose of witnessing whom were college undergraduates, who had arrived in town mainly for the purpose of witnessing the annual match contest oetween the university eights of Harvard and Yale on the following day, were gathered on the banks of the Thames River, at New London, Ct., on the evening of Thursday, June 27, when the triangular race between 'varsity crews representing Cornell, Columbia and the University of Pennsylvania took place over a straightaway course of three miles. The weather was satisfactory, the water fairly good, and the wind and tide were with the rowers. Provoking delays, parily unavoidable and parily unnecessary, served to rumple the tempers of the spectatore, largely to spoil the contest as a spectate, and finally to prevent the time of the winners being taken, or the actual distance between them and the second crew being observed clearly. It was known, however, that the victors were the lads from Cornell, big and brawny young fellows, with lots of stamina, and that the Columbias, skillful, but lacking the necessary staying power and strength possessed by their conquerors, were the second at the finish. The start was even, and these two crews had clung to each other throughout the greater part of the distance, with the Cornells generally slightly leading and ultimately crossing the finish line with an advantage of about two lengths. It was a close race, but, as before stated, the gathering darkness prevented the people from thoroughly enjoying the struggle. The Columbias rowed gamely, as may well be believed when we state that they were all completely exhausted at the close, and several of them were quite ill for hours afterwards. The formation of the crews was as follows: Cornell—I. D. Ross (bow). A. H. Benedict, A. J. Calnan, W. B. Tobey, A. W. Marston, P. Hagerman, G. H. Thayer, W. S. Dole (stroke). L. M. The Long Island Regatta.

The postponed regatta of the Long Island Amateur Rowing Association was brought off at Bay Ridge, L. I., on Saturday afternoon, June 29. Although better than on the previous Saturday, at Flushing, the water was still unsuitable for shell rowing, and several upsets occurred during the progress of the regatta, which was witnessed by comparatively few people. The distance in all the races was a mile and a half, straightaway, starting from the coal dock at Bay Ridge, and the winners of the several races were:

ED. HANLAN has been induced to row a race with Henry Peterson of San Francisco at Salt Lake, Utah, some time during next month, under the auspices of citzens of that place who are interested in boating matters, and who, it is stated, will offer a purse of $2,000 for the scullers. Doubtless the desire to see Hanlan row, even though he is no longer the Hanlan of old, will justify them in hanging up this amount.

A remarkably fine game was played between the Norristown and Norwalk teams, June 27, at Norristown, Pa. Neither side scored a run until the last half of the eleventh inning, when, with two men out and one on base. Owens hit the ball over the left field fence for a home run sending in the base runner shead of him, and thus giving Norristown the game by a score of 2 to 0.

In the second, third and fifth innings of the Lowell-Wilkesbarre game, June 27, at Lowell, Pitcher Burns, of the home team, did wretched work in the box. The visitors made twenty runs, four in the second, six in the third and ten in the fifth. Wilkesbarre won easily by a score of 21 to 7. Burns evidently had a bad case of the sulks.

Tom Gunning, one of the catchers of the Athletic Club, of Philadelphia, was released June 29. He will quit the dlamond and practice as a physician, being a recent graduate of the University of Pennsylvania. He played in former seasons with the Boston and Philadelphia Clubs.

The Athletics visited Jersey City June 28 and played the Jersey Citys. The visitors took the lead in the first inning by scoring six runs and maintained it throughout, and finally won by a score of 9 to 5.

The Oaklands and Stocktons met June 20, in San Francisco, and the Stocktons were defeated by a score of 8 to 2. They met again June 23, at Stock-ton, when the home team scored another victory by 13 to 7.

The Minneapolis and St. Joseph teams met June 24 on the grounds of the latter, and the home term shut out the visitors by the score of 3 to 0. The feature of the game was the pitching of Flood, of the home team, he holding the visitors down to three scattering hits. These teams met again June 25, when the visitors turned the tables and defeated the home team by a score of 6 to 3. The feature of the game was the centre field play of Foster for the visitors, he making several difficult running catches. Pete Hotaling has signed with the St. Joseph team.

The New Yorks should be given a grand reception when they return home July 8. They have been doing remarkably well on their present Western trip, in their badly crippled condition. Capt. Ewing is certainly doing everything in his power to caccurage the men to success. Let any other team be as badly broken up as the New Yorks are now doing.

Manager Sharsig, of the Athletics, on June 27, signed McMahon, the crack pitcher of the Norristown (Pa.) Club. McMahon got all he asked for, and would not affix his signature to a contract until promised to be played regularly with the other pitchers in the box. McMahon has been doing good work of late, and will be taken with the Athletics on their Western trip.

A deal is going on between the Washington and Philadelphia Clubs, whereby the former is willing to exchange Myers or Morrill for centre fielder Ed. Andrews. The deal caused considerable surprise when it was announced, as it was generally believed that Morrill was a fixture with the Washington Club, at least for this year.

Pitcher Bates, formerly of Harvard, has got through with the Staten Island Athletic Club, and is to play in this vicinity until the mountain season arrives, when he will take a trip in that direction. It is rumored that he will be back at Harvard next season.—Foston Herald.

The Athletics were unfortunate in not having Pitcher Weyhing's services during the late series with the Baltimores. If Weyhing had not been summoned to the bedside of a sick brother in Louisville the Baltimores would hardly have taken three straight games.

Athletic vs. Brooklyn.

The Brooklyns beat the Athletics for the fifth time June 29, in Philadelphia, the ninth game of the series being then played. Weyhing was wild in the first inning, when he gave the first two men bases on balls, and hit the next two with the ball, thus forcing in a run. A wild throw by Lyons then helped the visitors to score three runs. After this inning Weyhing 'pitched in great form, holding the Brooklyns down to two safe hits and no runs during the remainder of the contest. The Athletics batted Caruthers freely, but their hits were widely scattered, and superb fielding kept them from making more than two runs. Poor coaching cost the Athletics at least one run in the fifth inning, when men were thrown out at the plate and at third base. Smith's short stopping was the fielding feature, he making many wenderful stops. the series being then played. Weyhing was wild

The second tour of Great Britain by a team of Philadelphia amateurs was to commence July 2 in Dublin. The team includes Dan. S. Newhall, Brewster, Clark and Palmer of the Young America Club; H. I. Brown, R. D. Brown, Morkan and Patterson of the Germantown; Stoever and W. Sect to the Belmon; Etting, Sharp and Stoever and W. Sect to the Belmon; Etting, Sharp and Haverford College. The team sailed from this city on the steamship City of Chicago, which arrived at Queenstown, Ireland, June 28. The schedule of the tour includes twelve matches, each being arranged to cover two days or even three il necessary. The concluding contest takes place Aug 8 and 9 in Cambridge, Eng., when the Philadelphians will be opposed to an eleven of Cambridge Unversity. R. Carpenter, the veteran English professional, will act as umpire for the Philadelphians in all of their games.

The construction of five balls of materially changed this in, the most important alteration being the substitution of five balls or more to an over for four. A bowler may change ends as often as he likes, but cannot bowl two overs in succession. On the third day of a match, and in a one day match, at any time the side in at the bat may declare their inning at an end. The second tour of Great Britain by a team of Phila

THE TRIGGER.

The American Team Win.
The team of Massachusetts riflemen were cordially received upon their arrival in England, being wined, dined and shown the sights of London town and other cities previously to engaging in the town and other cities previously to engaging in the serious work which induced them to make the trip abroad. On July 1 they first appeared in the field, meeting a picked team from the Honorobie and Ancient Artilery Company of London at the Nunhead Range. Each marksman fired seven shots at 200, 500 and 600 yards respectively, and the Americans won a notable victory, leading twenty-seven points at the close of the shooting at the shorter range, twenty-four points at 500yds, and winning the match by fifty-four points. CHAS. W. BUDD arrived home at Des Moines, Ia. June 17, by way of Cincinnati, after attending the Illinois State shoot. He brought with him a fine 7th Birmingham gun, costing $265. Budd will join a party of ten sportsmen in a specially chartered palace car, and will go on tour through the South touching San Francisco, New Orleans, etc. The expenses will be paid by gun houses they represent.

ARTHUR B. VANCE SR. the veteran snap shot and sporting man, died in Philadelphia on June 24, at the age of seventy years. At one time deceased was very prominent in trigger and sporting circles generally in the Quaker City, where, we believe, he was born, and the saloon which he and Ira Paine kept for some time on Walnut Street was a well known resort.

The Rockaway Steeplechase Association commenced their Summer meeting at the course at Cedarhurst, L. L., on Friday afternoon, June 28, and there was a large and fa-bloundle assemblyage to witness the events forming the programme, which, it must be said, were not at all attractive to the lovers of genuine racing little of which was obtainable there. Instead of confining their efforts to races over the sticks, the Association placed five sprint events on the fat upon the programme, and not only that, but those who were interested only in the jumping contests were obliged to wait till the other items on the programme were decided. So far as the steeplechases and hurdle events were concerned, with the exception of the hurdle, which proved fairly interesting, they were simply laughable farces. The entities for all the events munibered 125 in all, of which only fifty-three started. Monmouth's Opening.

The racing season at the favorite course of the Monmouth Park Racing Association, near Long Branch, N. J., opens on the Fourth of July, when, in honor of the day there will be eight races decided, including the Independence Stakes, the Fourth of July Handicap and the Ocean Stakes, for which the leading stable of the East have entered thoroughbreds of high quality, who are bound to furnish fine sport for the thousands who will make the journey by rail and boat. The season will continue every Saturday, Tuesday and Thursday thereafter till Aug. 17, the first Summer meeting ending on July 11, the Midsummer meeting on Aug. 1, and the second Summer meeting on Aug. 1, and the second Summer meeting on the closing day of the season, which last twenty days in all, the association adding the munificent sum of $185,000. On the opening day the first race will take place at 2 P. M., and on the following days the racing will begin at 2.30. Trains will run direct to the track over the Central and Pennsylvania railroads, and by boat, via Sandy Hook, from pier s, express trains for the city by all routes leaving immediately after the races are over. The fare for the round trip, including admission to the field, is $1.50.

THE RING.

THE WORLD'S CHAMP, ONSHIP.

On the Eve of the Big Battle—Sports Off for New Orleans.

Public opinion regarding the match between John L. Sullivan and Jake Kilrain for the champion ship of the world of pugilism and the rich stake o twenty thousand dollars in cash has undergone radical change within a comparatively few days. The fact that when the agreement was entered into on the soil of Canada the great majority of ring on the soil of canada the great majority of ring goers were disposed to question the sincerity of purpose of one or both of the principals to the match does not admit of question, while very many openly proclaimed their firm belief that something would happen before the eighth day of July to break it off. The further fact that the high contracting parties have been in close training for some weeks, however, that the most favorable reports as to their physical condition have come from their headquarters; that their backers and most in-timate friends are freely wagering their money on the success of their favorite; that the battle ground has been selected, and that the representa-tives of both parties are now in the Crescent City. perfecting the necessary preliminary arrangements, has had the effect of dissipating this feeling of distrust, and restoring confidence in the honesty of purpose which has all along actuated the princi-pals and their backers. The result of this change of pass and their backers. The result of this change of belief has been the development of a far deeper and more widespread interest in the result of the forth-coming passage of arms than has heretofore been manifeated. From all parts of the country comes the intelligence that the sporting profile are gradually being worked up to fever heat on a the affalt, and that arrangements have been or are being made for the running of special trains from various cities to New Orleans and return at reduced rates. At least four will convey lovers of the game from the metropolis, the first of which started on Sunday night, having on board Charley Johnston and Jimmy Wakely two of Sulfavan's backers-together with enough-of-the-big felying cars. They went by the West Shore road, and remained over at Rochester till Monday evening, July 1, when another car, intended for the exclusive use of Sulfivan and his trainers. William Muldoon and Mike Cleary, was attached, and the journey resumed. The latter car'is furnished with a striking bag, dumb bells, gloves and other appliances to enable the bely un to exercise during the trip, which will be made by easy stages, the party arriving at their dealindion on Saturday. It is probable that Sulfivan will be quartered in the provided of the party of the provided of the party of the provided of the city, where he trained for interpretable for the provided of the city where he trained for arry made up by Chris. Clark of The Police Gazette, will leave the city on Thursday morning, and upon arrival at Baltimore will take on Kilrain, Charley Mitchell and Johnny Murphy who will also have a special car to themselves. Bitled up with training appliances so that Sullivan will not have any advantage of his adversary in this respect, This party will go by the Southern route, arriving at the Crescent City on Saurday, and we understand quarters have been secured for Kilrain at West End, a suburb of New Orleans, on the banks of arrangements for the flight, arrived there on June 25, in company with W. E. Hard the circumstances, if ought to be a pretty safe play to keep one's money in one s pockets till the men are in the ring, when there will be abundant opportunity to invest it according to one's inclination, after scanning the physical appearance of both principals. The general opinion scena to be that the result of the impending conflict depends altogether on the condition in which Sullivan appears at the scratch, most ring goers of experience anchining to the belief that in case he proves to be sound in wind and limb and is possessed of all his old time speed and bitting power, the fight will be brief, with the Boston strong boy a certain winner, barring accident. On the other hand, should be fail to justify the good reports that have been sent out, and Kitrain, who is undoubtedly both strong and clever, besides being an unquestioned stayer, be able to stand him off for a few rounds, the battle is likely to be protracted, with the chances in favor of the Baltimorean. It is probable that the seconds for sullivan will be Mike Cleary and Arthur Chambers. Sullivan wanted Jack Dempsey in his corner, but the Nonparell, although a staunch admirer of the big fellow, could not accept the offer. Joe Coburn is one of those on board the Sullivan train, and no doubt he will alt the latter as much as possible with his advice while in the ring. Mike Donovan, who is to a saist Charley Mikeell in attending to the wants of Kilrain, is to have a joint benefit with Denny Butter, swimming master to the Southern Athletic Club, on Saturday evening, 6 at which Jake and Charley are to appear, fleorge W. Moore, the minstrel manager and tather in law of Mitchell, atrived at this port from England on Monday morning, July 1, and will be at the ringside, a highly interested spectator. Two other parties are to leave, and the other in coarge of Dominick McCaffrey. They will reach their destipation on Friday, by which time New Orleans will be well filled with strangers, who will continue to arrive by every train during the following forty-eight battle, although it is probable that the possibility of such official action being taken has been duly considered by the managers of the affair, who have arranged matters accordingly, so that the fight will hardly be prevented:

10 Surrips. Constable and All Other Prace Officers of the State of Mississippi.

Whereas, it has become a matter of notoriety that certain persons called John L. Sullivan and Jake Kitrain, from distant States, intend on some near day, and in d-fiame of law and morals, to engage in prize lighting, and, tain persons called John L. Sullivan and Jake Kurain, from distant istates, intend on some near day, and in d-flance of law and morals, to engage in prize fighting, and, Whereaz, It has been reliably respected that such prize fighting is to take place within 100 inlies of New Orleans, and is likely to be within the limits of this State now therefore, I. Robert Lowry, Governor, in the name and by the authority of the State of Mississippi, sensible of the wickedness, bruisity and demoralizing influence of such crime, call upon you, by your oaths of office, to use all vigilance and endeavor to prevent the commission thereof within your respective counties, by promptly and the prize of such crime, call upon you, by your oaths of office, to use all vigilance and endeavor to prevent the commission thereof within your respective counties, by promptly are considered as the commission thereof within your respective counties, by promptly a considered and the state of the control of the peace, as well as upon all law abiding citizens of the community where the same shall occur, to take criminal proceedings against the guilty persons under the act of March 7, 1882, entitled "An act to prevent prize fighting in the State, and for other purposes," To the end that requisition may be employed if necessary to secure their punishment, witness my hand and the great seal of the State of Mississippi, al Jackson, the capital, this first day of July, 1882.

(Seal) By the Governor. Goo M. Goran.

The Governor also offers a reward of $500 for the apprichension of the principals and their delivery to the officers of the county in which the fight takes place provided they make the soil of Mississippi, already red with the blood of duellists and others who do their deadly work with lead and steel, the local for a fair stand up fight with nature's weapons for the championship. It will be remembered that shortly after the fight between Sullivan and Ry

Hook Quickly Defeated by Larkins.

Ed. Holske, the ex-champion walker, seems to be fast losing the excellent reputation he once gained as a shrewd, able manipulator of pugulists and an A No. I judge of aspirants for fame pugilistic. Not long ago he proved lamentably in error in his estimate of the powers of Matt McCarthy, of the Quaker City, in comparison with those possessed by the Jersey City bantam. "Cal" McCarthy, and now he has added to this a yet more incomprehensible error of Judgment. By pitting the Bruisher Bill Hook against Jimmy Larkins, the undeteated lightweight of New Jersey. Their match was for $500 a side, with skin tight gloves. The principals were confined to 123th, and the encounter came off in the immediate vicinity of the metropolis, under cover, on the night of June 27. A select company of high class sports, with a few others for seasoning, were permitted to witness what was expected to prove a most interesting contest. Among those present were a strong delegation of Philadelphia admirers of the game of punch all of whom came well prepared to stake money in large and small amounts upon Hook, who was by them and their pilot regarded as a sure winner. They wanted odds at first, but after finding that they would not be accommodated that way they were quite willing to put up their dust at evens, and a considerable amount of money was so wagered while waiting for the fight to begin. Hook is 5ft. Jim in height-large-of, frame, and with very solid looking underpinning and well-developed armishoulder and back mascles. He was attended to by George Young and Tommy Barnes. Larkins stands 5ft, 63 in., is of slender, wiry build, with good muscular development, and is a punishing hitter. Dominick McCaffrey was watch holder-for larkins, while Gus Tuttle kept time for Hook. The Englishman was the first to offer, planting his fist on the jaw, which ried Larkins and the Jerseyman dashed in both hands, effecting a solid landing for both, on the stomach and Jaw. The ensuing raily was a hot one, with Larkins doing about all the execution, and finally sending his opponent down with a punch in the vicualing department. As soon as Hook was upon his feet and in position again Larkins solided in A No. 1 judge of aspirants for fame pugllistic. Not long ago he proved lamentably in error in his estimate of the powers of Matt McCarthy, of the Quaker

Mulholland Beats Manning. The much talked of glove fight between George Mulholland of Australia, and Billy Manning, of Los Angeles, Cal., took place on the night of June 19, at the rooms of the Southern California Athletic Club, Los Angeles, it being the initiatory light of the new club, and it was satisfactory in all respects. The management was excellent, and perfect order was maintained. Mulholland tipped the beam at 1881b, and was seconded by P. Coffe and J. Donovan, while Manning, who was about two pounds lighter, was in the hands of Frank Ellingsworth and Joe Soto. C. B. Flint was the referee. Forty-seven rounds were contested, ending in a clean knock out for Mulholland, Billy fought a game light and tried all he know how to turn the tide in his favor, and doing most of the leading and gaining first blood in the sixth round, but was entirely outclassed in science and generalship, and after exhausting himself in vain endeavors to punish his marvelously shifty opponent was knocked out by a right hander from the clever man from Kangaroo land in the middle of the 47th round. The loser was badly punished, while Mulholland was centrely marked. Mulholland of Australia, and Billy Manning, of Los

What was to have been a twenty round contest with small gloves, for a purse of $500, of which the loser was to get $100, came off at the rooms of the Parnell Atheur Club. in Boston, Mass. evening of June 28, the principals being Tom McCarthy, of Woburn, and George Smith, of the Hub. The latter proved no company for the Woburnite, however, and after being knocked about like a shuttlecock, he was clean done up in the fifth round.

BILLY ELKS of Saratoga, defeated Jack McGee of New Jersey, in a glove light at a spot near Saratoga, N. Y., on the night of June 28. But few persons witnessed the light which was quite one sided, Liks, who was five pounds the lighter man having all the best of the punching, and finally settling his antagonist in the seventh Queensberry round.

An EXCITING prize fight took place near Buffalo.

A SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH says that the fight between Tommy Warren and Johnny Griffin, announced for June 2s, at the rooms of the California Athletic Club, had been postponed fill July 12, owing to an injury sustained by Warren while playing football. Griffin was under the stipulated weight and strong, and he feels much disappointed over the change of date.

JINNY LYNGH defeated Tominy Danforth in a glove centest at a resort of the fancy on Staten Island on Saturday night, June 29. The former is the quicker with his bands and on his pins, and being equally as clever as Danforth, he had the best of the thumping throughout, and must have won even though found had not made it as ure thing by striking him repeatedly while Jinmy was on his knees in the twenty second round.

Tom McCarruy was declared the winner of a glove contest with George Smith, of Boston, Mass. for a purse of $500, at that place, on the night of June 28. He was declared the victor at the end of the fifth round, the battle having been a bummer.

AQUATIC.

The Patapsco Regatta.

The first regatta held by the reorganized Patapsec Navy of Baltimore, Md., was the attraction that drew about fifteen thousand persons to the bluff li ning the middle section of the Patapsco River or Wednesday afternoon, June 26. Among the entries for the different events were a number of representatives from out of town clubs, thus adding to the importance of the fixure. The races were almost without exception sharply contested, and all present enjoyed the affair. The wind, however, blew from the southwest directly across the course, making the water somewhat rough. shifting throughout, the allast was fairly successful, about it was utterly devoid of exciting features. The larger boats went as far as Buoy No. 5, off the point of the Hook, and return, while the smaller craft sailed to and around Buoy 16. The first of the little fellows to reach the outer mark was the Our Own, which rounded at 11470, followed by the Shore House at 1.1475, the Bon Ton at 1.1730, the Playmate at 1.1990, and the Forsythe at 1.2030. The boats then ran home before a night wind, under all sail and with a pretty still ebb tide to battle with. The forty foot sloops had a beat to the brow-oil-Saudy-Hook point, the first to go around that mark being the Mistral, at 2.2130, with the Dominio second, at 2.2500, the Hope at 2.28500, and the Æolas at 2.6030. These boats kept well together on the return trip, all having big balloon jib toposils hoisted, and the race day and the sail of the first to go according to the control of the beit it was utterly devoid of exciting features.

The Sculling Championship.

globe, has arrived in London, and William O'Connor, champion of America, now matched with the Australian, is now on his way to England, the attention of the rowing public is beginning to turn in that direction, and information regarding the tention of the rowing public is beginning to turn in that direction, and information regarding the movements of the principals becomes interesting, we take the following from The Sporting Life of London, Eng., Just at hand:

After leaving the Aquarium, at Westminster, at a little after cleven o'clock on Thursday evening, Searle and Neil Matterson acc mpanied John M. Clasper to his private residence, at Potney, and the champion, being well pleased with the home comforts, as vouched for by Neil Matterson who stayed there on his former visit to this country, decided on taking up his residence there whilst training for his forthcoming great contest with O'Connor, the champion of Canada and America. At about nine o'clock on Friday morning they left Putney for Anderton's hotel, Fleet Street, where they rejoined their friends, and the whole of the party proceeded to Titbury Docks in order to clear their luggage from the Orient steamer, which, however, did not come alongside until past three o'clock, and, curiously enough, their luggage was nearly the last to leave the vessel. Having seen to its safety, and given directions for it to be forwarded, they returned to Anderton's in time for dinner, and fluished the day by going to a place of amusement. Searle Intends to visit his grandiather and grandmother, who reside at Eastbourne, early next week; will take a trip to Henley Royal Regaina and will devote the remainder of the week to sightseeing. He will then probably take up his quariers at Clasper's and commence practice. One hundred pounds a side is staked, and his business agent. Cris. Crane, will be only too pleased to draw up articles and make a further deposit so soon as O'Connor arrives. He has not yet seen any one willing to act on behalf of the Canadian.

A SINGLE SCULL RAG will take place July 4, at McGregor, Ia., between J. E. Anderson, of the Lurine Boat Club of Minneapolis, and G. R. Gunner, of the Dolphin Boat Club of McGregor. The contest is open for any other amateurs who may wish to compete. The Sylvan Boat Club of Moline will not be represented in any of the regattas this senson. The date of the lowa State Rowing Association regatta will probably be changed to July 24 and 25, or 25 and 26.

The Corinthian Mosquito Fleet held a regatta over a special course of the Larchmont Yacht Club, in Long Island Sound, June 29, the prize sailed for being a handsone and valuable oxidized sliver how!. The course was triangular in shape, and was sailed over twice, with the following result: Paul Butler's Fly first, arriving at 6.44.30; C. B. Vaun's Alom second, at 6.48.30; C. J. Stevens Vagaloud third, at 6.50.25; G. C. Forrest's Dumple fourth, at 6.49.34.

ATHLETIC.

Peter Cannon, of Sterling, Scotland, running at Montrose on June 12, on the Links Park, the ground of the Montrose Pootball Club, gave J. Pergusson 200yds, start. A. Hunter 200yds, and A. Keillor 400yds, in a four mile handicap. The track was carefully staked off and measured 230yds, around, so that in order to accomplish the distance, 21 laps and 110yds, had to be traversed. Keillor was passed in the fifth lap, and lunter in the twelfin lap, and Fergusson, who was running in splendid form, spurted to a standstill in the sixteen round. One by one turn about, they again took up the running, and so pulled Cannon out. All ran in the last lap, but the Stirling man got to the front place, and burst tarough the taps in 19m, 40s, only 45s, longer than W. G. George's record at Stamford Bridge some six years ago, and 4s, longer than Jack White's record, that stood fer upwards of a quarter of a century, and which was done on the fine track at Hackney Wick. W. Miller was starter, and the clocking was carefully attended to by D. Clark, watch and clock maker. A Turf Record.
